ICI Standards & Curriculum for:

The „Professional Systemic Coaching, ICI“ training

This comprehensive 120-hour professional training program is designed to develop highly competent Systemic Coaches capable of working with individuals, couples, teams, organizations, and complex human systems. The curriculum integrates the philosophy of systemic thinking, contemporary coaching methodologies, systems theory, cybernetics, structural constellations, communication excellence, and professional coaching competencies into a coherent learning process.

This program emphasizes understanding relationships, patterns, interactions, and systemic dynamics rather than focusing solely on individual behavior. Participants learn to identify leverage points for sustainable change while maintaining ethical standards and professional coaching practice.

Entrance Qualification:

Participants are expected to possess fundamental coaching knowledge and practical communication skills. Prior education in coaching, psychology, counseling, leadership, NLP, psychotherapy, human development, or related disciplines is recommended.

Recommended Entry Qualification:

- ICI Professional Coach or equivalent coaching education
- NLP Practitioner or equivalent qualification
- Demonstrated professional experience in coaching, consulting, leadership, education, psychotherapy, counseling, or human development.
